

TRACEY KYLE

Children's Picture Book Author
& Retired Spanish Teacher

During my 30-year career as a World Language teacher in the Northern Virginia Area, I have helped thousands of students on their journey to language acquisition. I began writing picture books as a way to inspire even the youngest of children to become interested in other languages and cultures.

My customized presentation will fit the needs of any age group, from story time with pre-schoolers to writing workshops for older students. Children of all ages will be engaged in learning activities, and will realize how much fun reading and writing can be!
